COURSE / CAREER DETAILS

NATIONAL TRAINING PACKAGE

The Parts Interpreting Vocational course is part of the Nationally Recognised Automotive Training Package AUR 05.

The components of a National Training Package are: -

- Units which define skills and knowledge required to perform specific tasks in the workplace.
- Nationally Recognised Qualifications related to workplace requirements and based on industry Competency Standards.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

Parts Interpreting training is available as an Australian Apprenticeship through Quality Automotive Training.

The training is available using a number of delivery options designed to meet your specific requirements. These options are: -

1. Day Release, 1 day per week.
2. Block Release, 1 week per month.
3. A combination of above with on-site training and assessment.
4. Open Learning training delivery with on-site training and assessment.

It is anticipated the program can take up to 36 months to complete.

This Australian Apprenticeship is designed to provide people who are entering the Automotive Industry with specialist Parts Interpreting skills and qualifications.

This vocation will involve many practical sales and administration tasks including identifying customer's needs and sourcing the correct replacement parts or accessories.

Selling spare parts and accessories to the public and trade customers using proven sales techniques and good customer relations skills are also a requirement. Skills in handling cash and credit transactions and operating a computer stock control system are essential.

Spare Parts Interpreters need to be able to identify automotive and possibly heavy vehicle and mobile plant parts, components and accessories and have an understanding of how they work.

They may need to be able to set up merchandising displays and to identify stock requirements and maintain stock control. A good understanding of warehousing procedures is essential plus skills in undertaking stock takes.

Spare Parts Interpreters are often allocated specific companies as their accounts and it is important to develop exceptional communication skills and develop a positive relationship with their customers.

Trainees will be required to operate within a safe working environment. Good customer contact and communication skills are also an important aspect of this Australian Apprenticeship.

This vocation can provide numerous career paths including:

- Specialising as a Qualified Parts Interpreter
- Supervision or Management of an Automotive Parts and Accessories Business
- Continue studying to gain Certificate IV in Business Management
